

Privacy Notice – Research

Bridge Medical Centre

Plain English explanation

This practice does not presently participate in research. We will only agree to participate in any project if there is an agreed clearly defined reason for the research that is likely to benefit healthcare and patients. Such proposals will normally have a consent process, ethics committee approval, and will be in line with the principles of Article 89(1) of GDPR.

Research organisations do not usually approach patients directly but will ask us to make contact with suitable patients to seek their consent. Occasionally research can be authorised under law without the need to obtain consent. This is known as the section 251 arrangement¹. We may also use your medical records to carry out research within the practice.

We do not share information with medical research organisations currently. If we were to do so in the future, it would be with your explicit consent or when the law allows:

You have the right to object to your identifiable information being used or shared for medical research purposes. Please speak to the practice if you wish to object.

4) Lawful basis for processing or sharing	Should we participate in research in the future, it will be according to one of the following legal justifications, depending upon the research. In this event, this Privacy Notice will be updated accordingly. Identifiable data will be shared with researchers either with explicit consent or, where the law allows, without consent. The lawful justifications are; Article 6(1)(a) “the data subject has given consent to the processing of his or her personal data for one or more specific purposes” or Article 6(1)(e) may apply “necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller” And in addition there are three possible Article 9 justifications. Article 9(2)(a) – ‘the data subject has given explicit consent...’
